

DREAMS.
Oh! there is a dream of early youth,
And it never comes again;
'Tis a vision of light, of life, and truth,
That flits across the brain:
And love is the theme of that early dream,
So wild, so warm, so new,
That in all our after years I deem,
That early dream we rue.

Oh! there is a dream of maturer years,
More turbulent by far;
'Tis a vision of blood, and of woman's tears,
For the theme of that dream is war -
And we toil in the field of danger and death,
And shout in the battle array,
Till we find that fame is a bodiless breath,
That vanisheth away.

Oh! there is a dream of hoary age,
'Tis a vision of gold in store -
Of sums noted down on the figured page,
To be counted o'er and o'er:
And we fondly trust in our glittering dust,
As a refuge from grief and pain,
Till our limbs are laid on that last dark bed,
Where the wealth of the world is vain.

And is it thus, from man's birth to his grave,
In the path which all are treading?
Is there nought in that long career to save
From remorse and self-upbraiding?
Oh, yes! there's a dream, so pure, so bright,
That the being to whom it is given,
Hath bathed in a sea of living light -
And the theme of that dream is Heaven.

The following anecdote, says the Albany Argus, related to us by a friend, is of recent occurrence, and too characteristic to be lost.

Mr. M. of this State, was proceeding to old Haddam, on the banks of the Connecticut, with a drove of horses. He was near the end of his journey, the roads forked, he was at a loss which was the regular road to pursue, and his drove of horses was pushing on, some on one fork and some on the other. In this dilemma, and with no time to lose, he espied a young man chopping wood at the door of a house which stood in the very angle of the roads. Spurring his horse, therefore, Mr. M. who was naturally impatient, and fiery in his temper, rode up to the Yankee in breathless haste, and the following dialogue ensued.

M. "Which of these is the right road to Old Haddam?"

Y. "Why? are you acquainted in Old Haddam?"

M. "D—n! don't you see that my horses are all going astray? Why in h—ll don't you answer my question, and tell me the road to Old Haddam?"

Y. "Why mister, how you do swear! I never heard any body swear so in all my born days."

M. "You infernal rascal! if you don't tell me this instant, which is the road to Old Haddam, I'll get off my horse and cow-skin you as you deserve."

Y. Folding his arms across his breast, and looking up to the face of M. with a smile of the most provoking tranquility. "There now, the man's absolutely in a passion! I guess you wouldn't find it quite so easy to lick me tho'. But I didn't mean any harm in asking if you was acquainted in Old Haddam; for Uncle Isaac lives there, and I thought may be you might know him."

So Mr. M. was obliged to collect his scattered drove, and guess the "road to Old Haddam" the best way he could.

Playful, but pointed.—A Judge of one of the Courts in Georgia, says the Observer of Maine, recently had to pass sentence on a number of persons for some high-handed offences against the laws of that State; he was about to sentence them to read through all the Speeches made in Congress the present Session; when the Counsel for the prisoners objected, on the ground that the Constitution of the United States expressly said, that no cruel or unusual punishments should be inflicted, they were then sentenced to the State prison for life.

OSCAR WIND-FLOWER,
WILL be kept for service this season, from the 14th of April, until the 17th of July next, viz: on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, until 1 o'clock, P. M. of each week, at the stable of the subscriber, in York-street, Gettysburg; and on Fridays and Saturdays, in Emmittsburg, Frederick county, Md.

Oscar Windflower

is a beautiful Chesnut Sorrel, 4 years old in August next, near sixteen hands high, and handsomely marked. He was gotten by Oscar Junior, bred by Gov. Ogle, of Md. and afterwards owned by Col. John Tayloe; his grandsire was gotten by the imported horse Gá briel; his grand dam on the side of his sire, is a full sister of Col. Tayloe's Belvoir, which was by the imported horse Medley, Gimcrack, Cripple, Arabian; his great grand dam, Dr. James Edelen's famous running mare Floretta, by the imported horse Spread Eagle. The dam of this Colt is a Windflower mare, remarkably fleet and durable, owned by Mr. Thomas Lee. She is pronounced by judges equal to any mare on the Continent; his grand dam got by the imported horse Jolly Sailor. To give an idea of his perfection, we will mention that the Judges of the Exhibition of fine Stock, at the fair in the Fall of 1826, awarded him a premium, as well on account of his blood, as his figure, bone, show, and action. It is thought unnecessary to make a further detail of his Pedigree, as his appearance will fully recommend him to any gentlemen who may think proper to call and see him.

Great care will be taken of Mares sent, but no accountability for accidents. (For particulars see Bills.)

Caution Renewed.
Highly interesting to the Public.—THE undersigned, proprietors of the original and genuine LEE'S WINDHAM PILLS, having learned that SPURIOUS PILLS, purporting to be GENUINE, have been sold in many parts of this state, by persons who have the effrontery to call themselves our agents, deem it a duty which we owe to the public, to state that each box of the genuine Lee's Windham Pills, is accompanied with a bill of directions signed JONAS S. LEE, (son of the late Dr. S. LEE,) and that it is also enclosed in a beautiful check plate label, on which are these words, "SAM'L LEE, PATENTEE OF THE WINDHAM BILIOUS PILLS, MADE BY J. S. & H. LEE, Sons and heirs of the late SAM'L LEE, W. A. WOODWARD, Joint Proprietors," under which is attached a "Test of Counterfeits," printed with red ink, and signed by Lee & Woodward, in their own hand writing. We pledge ourselves, that all Pills having the above named LABEL, TEST & SIGNATURE are the genuine Lee's Windham Pills. The proprietors refer to the numerous purchasers in various parts of the U. S. in support of the great efficacy of their Pills, as a mild, safe and sovereign remedy for Bilious Fevers, Dropsy, Yellow Fever, Acid Stomach, Jaundice, Worms, Indigestion, Head-ache, Constipation, Female Complaints, Dysentery, Scour, Hæmorrhoids, Eruptions in the skin, &c. They have also been found very efficacious in the FEVER & AGUE.

It is to be regretted that some Druggists in our country will sell the SPURIOUS PILLS, knowing them to be such, for the purpose of making a little more profit on them, as the counterfeits are made of base and cheaper materials, and can be sold for much less than the genuine. We have lately been informed that one person took NINE TEEN of the counterfeits, and several others have taken DOUBLE & TRIPLE DOSES, without effect. On the contrary the genuine pills operate as a mild & agreeable purge, and will be found a very convenient and safe remedy for every ailment, giving health to children, and will specially relieve them from constipation in the first passages, which are generally the cause of their ill sleep, with pain & distention of habit. They may be taken with safety in all cases of business, or danger of taking medicine.

Many persons of respectability have been cured of various complaints, not known to the public, and we presume, at least, a valuable addition to the number of those cured, by the use of the genuine Lee's Windham Pills.
